Join us on a journey that will transform who you are. Imagine learning new skills that will be invaluable in our rapidly developing world. You will be able to develop yourself and a career like you could never have imagined and open the door to the opportunities of the future.

Message From Our Founder

I am very pleased to invite you to join our global community. From my early experience as a Peking University student in 2007, we are now a multinational team of foreign students and understand what it's like for you to come to study in China.

Our vision is that every student, like you, should have the opportunity to study abroad in China. We believe in pushing boundaries and breaking down barriers.

The world, China, education and technology are all going through a period of rapid and profound change. Through all of these changes, studying abroad, and particularly China, is becoming more and more valuable. As a way for you to grow and understand more about the world and become a global citizen ready to take on the challenges and opportunities of our exciting modern era.

We do our best to provide high quality service to you. From choosing universities, through the application process, and through connecting you with opportunities and assistance to help make sure your experience in China is a happy and successful one.

We hope that we can help make your dreams a reality.

What Can You Study in China?

Bachelor's

Huge range of programs available in English, study in smaller cities for cheaper tuition and living costs, or choose to study in one of China's many world leading Universities.

Master's

Mostly 2 year programs including work experience and internships opportunities in many subjects. Normally a 2 year program with the first year focusing on courses and the second on dissertations and / or internships.

Subjects:

Medicine

Fast becoming a world leader with a large number of Universities offering medicine with courses such as MBBS, and at postgraduate level. Learn international and Chinese medicine, taught in English and / or Chinese, with highly competitive fees.

Business

With China's booming economy it is the the most interesting and useful place to study business in the world. Get real world experience and study in a multicultural environment with like-minded ambitious and forward thinking people.

PhD

China now produces the most PhDs graduates in the world. With huge investment in facilities, you can take a PhD in English in almost any subject. Just take the mandatory courses, and arrange your thesis and working time with your supervisor. We just need to find you a suitable supervisor and off you go.

Semester Programs

We can help you study on almost any program for a semester and organise credits with your home country. Contact us for details.

Summer Programs

Many summer programs are available, get an intensive taste of China, invaluable experience, make friends, and have an experience you will never forget.

Online Programs

Learn Chinese on skype or Business Law online with BLCU or BFSU. We partnered with two Universities to offer courses online.

Law

With huge economic development, China's legal system is developing rapidly. Learn in the midst of this exciting environment, and help build a career as a global legal professional between your country and China.

Politics & International Relations

Napoleon once said about China "Let her sleep, for when she wakes, she will shake the world". China has now woken. Understanding China, Chinese, the culture and the people is mandatory for you if you have political aspirations.

Chinese

Come to China and immerse yourself in the language to accelerate your learning. Challenge yourself, become fluent in Chinese and unlock your future. You won't regret it.

Engineering

With enormous infrastructure projects and technological development, and huge investment in Universities facilities, China is a serious destination to study engineering. Get a great education that can help you build a career in China or your home country.

When can you start?

For degree programs, there are two start dates each year, in spring semester and in fall semester. Most of the programs start in September or October each year. Some programs start in spring. The exact date changes each year depending on the Chinese lunar calendar and new year. Normally it is in February or March.

How can you apply?

The deadline and application process for applying to Universities is different between different universities. It is better to start the application process as early as possible to increase your chances of being accepted. It is also a good idea to apply to multiple universities to increase your chances and options. Some Universities accept students on a rolling basis, others process all applications on a certain date.

The first step to apply to Chinese Universities is to first book a free consultation with us and send your documents and we will provide free advice and assistance on your options.

How can you fund your studies?

The good news is that the tuition fee and cost of studying and living in China is comparatively low to other countries. As an example, the subway in Beijing cost 3 RMB-9RMB (depends on distance), and you can buy a beer for the same price. You can also eat for quite a low cost on campus (6-30 RMB per meal). There are also a large number of scholarships available. Most of these are available for the September intake only.

Accommodation

Most universities provide accommodation available on campus. If you are planning to stay on campus it is a good idea to book early because some universities have limited spaces. You can also stay off campus in private apartments. The exact cost can vary between cities. We provide free advice on this and booking service.

Internships & Career

Many students ask about internships and work experience in China. Students can take internships while studying but they should get permission from their university. Some universities will help make introductions, we can also provide assistance by introducing you to opportunities.

For experienced foreigners, there is an increasing demand for foreign talent who can help China to develop.
